

Charles (Chas) Moore died Wednesday, October 3, 2007, following a lengthy battle with diabetes and heart disease. He was 69.

Chas was born in Vinita, Oklahoma on May 23, 1938 to Charles and Sabrina Moore. In 1956 he graduated from Webster High School in Tulsa, Oklahoma, and in 1961 earned both his Bachelor of Music Education and Master of Music degrees from Tulsa University. In 1963 he married Roberta Weitzel in Mason City, Iowa.

Chas received his Ph.D. in Music Composition at the University of Iowa in 1968. He taught music and other subjects in public schools in Montana, Iowa, and Oklahoma. He also taught at Minot State College, at Concordia College in Moorhead, Minnesota, and at Buena Vista University in Storm Lake. His Woodwind Quintet won the 1965 Phi Mu Alpha Composition Contest and was published by Mills Music. His musical compositions were performed throughout the United States.

Chas had many interests. He enjoyed hunting and fishing, was a fan of football and boxing, and loved both watching and playing golf. He was an avid reader of a variety of subjects from philosophy to theoretical physics. He studied the history of art, painted abstract paintings and programmed computers. He loved to cook and enjoyed experimenting with recipes.

He is survived by his wife Roberta; son Brian (and wife Meghan) of Lowell, Massachusetts; son Alan (and wife Sarah) of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; brother Bud Moore (and wife Patty) of Toronto, Kansas; brother David Moore (and wife Catherine) of Plano, Texas; sister Nancy Riley (and husband Jerry) of Tulsa, Oklahoma; and his mother-in-law Doris Weitzel of Phoenix, Arizona. His faithful dog Trixie provided him with many hours of comfort.

Chas was preceded in death by his mother, Sabrina Moore; father Charles Moore; father-in-law George Weitzel, Sr.; brother-in-law George Weitzel, Jr.; and brother-in-law Bobby Street.
